MEMORANDUM FOR RECORD

SUBJECT: Topics for Presentation to Members of Congressional Committees

The three topics appearing on the attachment plus a fourth topic entitled, "Support of Headquarters Operations" were discussed with each element of the Office of Logistics. The use of generalized topics as opposed to those built around individual projects was initially proposed because this approach lent itself more readily to the development of a worthwhile 15 minute presentation stressing the unusual aspects of our business. It was believed that, considering the nature of the audience to be, a detailed discussion of an individual project might well lead to questions of an embarrassing nature not readily answerable in a few words. Reactions and comments by individual OL components follow:

1. Procurement Division

Chief, Procurement Division preferred building a presentation around a specific project. Project [REDACTED] was offered. He believed that the covert aspects of the Procurement Division constituted a comparatively small amount of total Procurement Division business. In a subsequent discussion with the Deputy Chief, Procurement Division, it was determined that [REDACTED] was unusual only from an internal Agency point of view. 25X1A2d2

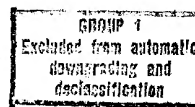

2. Security Staff

Chief, Security Staff believed that the topic on Specialized Procurement was an adequate vehicle to cover the unusual aspects of industrial security. There is some question at the moment as to whether the Office of Security will cover industrial security as a single topic.

3. Personnel Staff

Chief, Personnel Staff believed that nothing in the personnel field is of a sufficiently unusual nature to warrant coverage by a single topic. He did believe that a recent $5,000 award to Mr. [REDACTED] might well be included under the topic, "Support of Field Operations". 25X1A9a

4. Transportation Division

Deputy Chief, Transportation Division agreed that certain unusual aspects of delivery means could be briefly covered under the topic, "Support of Field Operations".

5. Printing Services Division

Deputy Chief, Printing Services Division believed that the unusual aspects of the Agency's printing effort did not warrant 15 minute coverage.

6. Logistics Services Division

Chief, Logistics Services Division believed that none of his operations fell in the unusual category.

7. Real Estate and Construction Division

Chief, Real Estate and Construction Division believed that a 15 minute presentation on the construction topic indicated could be prepared.

8. Supply Division

Chief, Supply Division believed that a 15 minute presentation on the "Support of Field Operations" could be prepared.
